Macrowave (real name Killian Ebel) is a French electronic music artist from Strasbourg.

Inspired by the coldness of the night, he tackles the themes of evanescence and eternity to set to music the images that haunt his mind.

This search for respite is reflected in the melodies he composes, through intense cinematic arrangements, chilling sounds and relentless percussion.

After the release of his first album Ultimatum and several EPs since late 2020, he is joined by a drummer whose style and precision sublimates his compositions, and presents his dark and intense musical universe on stage.

Music Composition / Production, Keyboard, Bass: Killian
